Past performance is not indicative of future returns. Returns will fluctuate and sell prices may be more or less than original cost. Total returns include reinvestment of any income. One cannot invest directly in an Index. An Index may differ significantly from the holdings of the Strategy as an Index is not managed and no fees or expenses are deducted from an Index. Performance results of the Index include the reinvestment of dividends and income. Accordingly, comparing or contrasting Composite results or characteristics with those of the Index may be of limited use.

Calculation Disclaimer

Dividends are included in the performance results. The Manager have also calculated the net results by applying the highest management fee to be charged to advisory clients. Results will vary based on the amount of the fee applied. The results were also calculated by rebalancing the long and short portfolios on a weekly basis. The portfolio selection was and will be generated from the proprietary Active Alts stock selection process which is based on quantitative factors and mechanically driven. Commissions were added. No taxes were deducted; no borrowing costs were added; and no ex-dividend costs were included from the short portfolio.

Downside deviation is a measure of downside risk that focuses on returns that sell below a minimum threshold of a Minimal Acceptable Return (MAR).

Sharpe ratio is the average return earned in excess of the risk free rate per unit of volatility of risk.

Time to recovery is the duration of time it takes to restore the value lost.

Beta is a measure of a stock's volatility in relation to the market. By definition, the market has a beta of 1.0, and individual stocks are ranked according to how much they deviate from the market. A stock that swings more than the market over time has a beta above 1.0.

Annualized volatility - Historic volatility measures a time series of past market prices. Implied volatility looks forward in time, being derived from the market price of a market-traded derivative (in particular, an option).

Max drawdown is an indicator of the risk of a portfolio chosen based on a certain strategy. It measures the largest single drop from peak to bottom in the value of a portfolio (before a new peak is achieved).

(1) Indicators drive the exposure while a proprietary Long & Short portfolio are rebalanced monthly for the strategies equity drivers.

(2) Commissions were added to the exposure rebalance as well as the monthly stock rebalance.
